

Granting permissions to your Analytics property

I'm assuming that you've already created a Analytics account on the Analytics site. Go to "User management" in the Admin-section of the property.

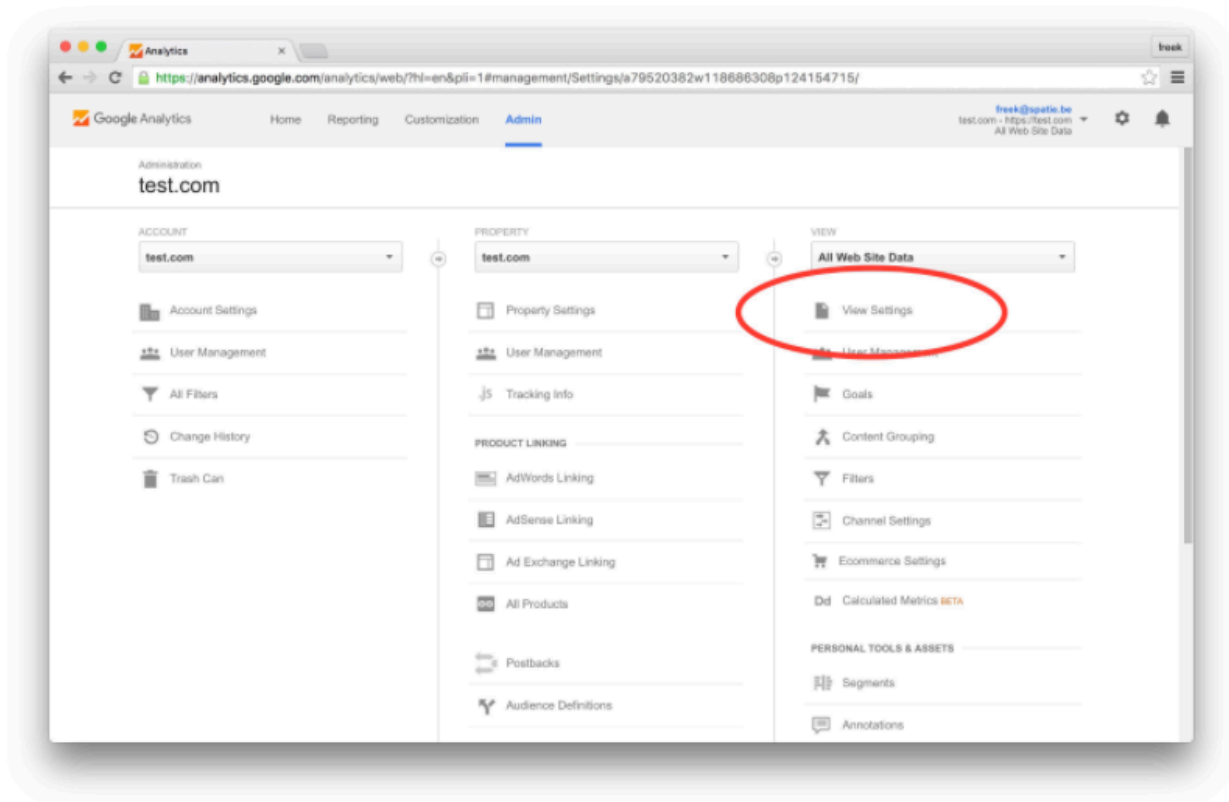

On this screen you can grant access to the email address found in the `client_email` key from the json file you download in the previous step. Read only access is enough.

Getting the view id

The last thing you'll have to do is fill in the `view_id` in the config file. You can get the right value on the Analytics site. Go to "View setting" in the Admin-section of the property.

You'll need the `View ID` displayed there.
